Congratulations on your engagement!

Thank you for your interest in Lily McGregor Photography! One of the most crucial parts of planning your wedding day is finding the perfect photographer to capture all of the details - from the flowers to your dress, from your guests to your family. Every aspect of your special day is meant to be cherished, and that is our ultimate goal. We strive to provide professional wedding photography at a price that fits every bride's budget.

Enclosed you will find our basic pricing structure. Every package is meant to highlight your wedding day according to your budget. Each package includes high quality photography, retouching, and keepsakes to help preserve the memories from your wedding day. Also included are the details of additional products and services that you can use to personalize your package. We also offer many other choices for both you and your guests, including the purchase of photographs from our website - at no extra cost for you!

If you have any questions about the packages or services, feel free to contact us! We would love to meet with you to discuss how we can meet your photography needs!
